County Chairman.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Special Dispatch to the Anderson Intelligencer COLUMBIA, S. C., October 9, 1878.

A Cincinnati dispatch this afternoon says reliable returns from all precincts in Hamilton County, except six, give Democratic candidates average 22,500 votes-Republican average 23,000 votes. In the First Congressional District Hon. Milton Saylor, Democrat, has been defeated by two or three hundred majority. In the Second District Goss, Democrat, has been elected by nearly a thousand majority.

It concedes the State to the Radicals by five or ten thousand, and claims eleven out of twenty Congressmen, not counting The Guzette claims the defeat of Goss gressional Districts are in doubt. The Democrats claim two; the Republicans have two certain-Orth and Hanna. In West Virginia all of the Democratic Congressmen are elected, and the Legislature is largely Democratic. Each party brought out a full vote. Iowa returns are scattering and unsatinfactory. There have been some Democratic gains reported. Error in count defeats Goss in Cin-

J. A. H. cinnati.

General N. P. Banks has been defeated for the Radical nomination in the Third Massachusetts Congressional District, and yet there are some few Radical newspapers which have not found out that the bloody shirt is no longer a paying investment for political purposes.

The Radicals have carried Colorado which every politician expected them to do. Judge R. B. Carpenter, formerly of this State, canvassed the State, and no doubt thinks he contributed largely to the result, and probably feels even with the Democracy. The task was not a difficult one, and if he is satisfied the Democrats of this State have no reason to his residence in Sumter on Wednesday the 2nd inst., after an illness of two months, occasions regret throughout the State, for by his official course during the past four years he had achieved a reputation for purity of character and ability of intellect, which gave him an exalted position in our judiciary. He was elected during the first year of ex-Gov. Chamberlain's administration, through a split in the Radical partyone faction running Moses and another Northrop, while the Democrats secured the election of Judge Shaw. It was in his Circuit that the notorious Moses was elected by the Radical party, and it was by his patriotic course that Moses was prevented from disgracing the sacred ermine of our judiciary. Then, when the Hampion government was fully established, it was in his Circuit that the mode of election under the Constitution was settled to be by ballot, thereby removing him in common with the other Judges from office. He was, however, unanimously re-elected by our last Legislature. Every act of his public and official life has been worthy of admiration and respect, while his private life should emulate. A good man has fallen, and the loss which our judiciary has sustained will not easily be supplied.

Gov. Alexander H. Rice, of Massachusetts, declines to receive Gov. Hampton's protest against the Kimpton outrage, or to permit it to be placed upon the files of the Executive Department of Massachnsetts. This is not at all to be wondered at, for if Gov. Rice has a spark of feeling or the slightest regard for his reputation in the future, he would certainly be unwilling to have the dignified and scathing rebuke administered by Gov. Hampton placed on record to condemn him forever. He very probably hopes that the recollection of his disreputable course in this whole matter will pass from memory, and therefore he wants as few records concerning it as possible. The principal objection which he feels towards Gov. Hampton's letter, however, is no doubt displayed in the last part of Gov. Rice's rejoinder, where he says its untimely publication is offensive and unjustifiable. The circumstance which made Gov. Hampton's letter untimely, was its arrival at Boston about the time the Republican Convention had overthrown both Gov. Rice and his Attorney General, Mr. Train, and nominated other persons to take their places and relieve them of any further discharge of their "convictions of public duty." Of course both Gov. Rice and Mr. Train were feeling badly enough over the result of their misconduct, and it seemed exceedingly untimely to them that Gov. Hampton should increase their discomfiture by such a stinging letter. They do not think that a person ought to kick a dog when he is down, and as they were down at that time, they think it was untimely for Gov. Hampton to kick them by publishing so caustic a letter, showing
